Desktop as a Service (DaaS)

The Problem ...

For a business that has about 25 PC's - computers and servers are expensive. It isn't just the purchase price that's a problem. What about all the other costs like keeping all the computers updated and maintained. Then there's the burden of making sure all the staff are using their computers in a consistent way that the business can control. On top of that you've got GDPR, compliance, systems security, policies and procedures. Before you know it, your PC's and servers are costing you a fortune!

The Solution ...

With DaaS, instead of using a PC, all your users log onto a system in the cloud called a remote desktop server. Because it is effectively one system shared by all the staff, everyone uses exactly the same versions of software and that makes applying company IT policies, adhering to standards and achieving compliance so much easier than attempting to do it the conventional way. We only use UK based cloud servers housed in professionally run datacentres and they are significantly more reliable than on-premises PC's/servers and they run so much quicker!

The Costs ...

In order to quote accurately for your business, we need to know quite a lot about your IT; number of users, what applications you run, how much disk space you need & quite a number of other facts and figures. But typically DaaS costs for an SME employing 25+ are between £50 and £75 per user per month.

Benefits Summary...

✓ Reliability increased, downtime reduced.
✓ Total cost of ownership of your IT lowered.
✓ Staff use system in same way and work from anywhere.
✓ Policies & compliance are significantly easier.
✓ Scalable. Grow from 25 to 50 staff within hours.
✓ DaaS systems run quicker.

Call To Action ...

The compelling argument is the overall reduction in your overheads. Look beyond the initial capital outlay of the PC or server. Factor in your total cost of ownership of a conventional IT system. Quite simply DaaS is less expensive.

Don't wait for your competitors to implement DaaS & get their overheads down before you do it. Take a good look at the benefits of DaaS with us – we'd be delighted to do a demo. Once you've compared your conventional way of working with our DaaS solution, we'd like to think you'll be impressed, maybe even amazed.
