

Full Management of your Mobiles

Your business can of course source your mobile phone contracts, sim cards & handsets from just about any telecoms company. What differentiates us from other potential suppliers is the security, management, support & integration we can offer your business ensuring your staff are using their mobiles in the best possible ways.

The Problem ...

It is essential that you provide your staff with company mobile phones & although you might trust your staff you've no means of managing what they use those phones for, what apps they have got, what web sites they browse & how they communicate with other people. Unmanaged your company mobile phone policy is useless. Alarmingly, as cyber threats increase, you don't know if those phones are getting updates or protected against viruses, data theft or hacking. Without mobile phone controls your company data & reputation is at risk & you may well be falling foul of your industry standards & your obligations/compliance.

The Solution - Mobile Device Management (MDM) ...

Treating them a bit like your computers, we can manage & protect your mobiles. Our support engineers will configure the MDM with you to devise a practical set of mobile phone policies & procedures that we can then automatically "push out" across all your devices to ensure your staff stay safe/secure while using their mobiles.

Professional MDM provides a means of monitoring mobiles ensuring they have all the right updates & security. Protecting your company data on phones is essential. We'll help you come up with suitable staff restrictions (as you deem appropriate). This will give you the reassurance that your mobiles can only be used safely & that you are achieving the necessary compliance.
